In India, around 32% of ever-married women reported having experienced physical, sexual, or emotional violence by their husbands in their lifetime. The most common type of spousal violence, in India is physical followed by emotional and sexual which are not reducing or increasing. Therefore it is necessary to make the students and staff especially the females ones aware of the nature of domestic violence and various forums available in our country for gaining justice.

In this program the participants were made aware about

- domestic violence and various forms of it
- circumstances which may lead to domestic violence
- persons effected by it
- the IPC section and the punishments according to it
- the legal Act under which the domestic violence is covered
- whom to consult and what steps to be taken to overcome the domestic violence

Participants were also made aware about various forums available in our country to fight against the domestic violence.

International Women's day in 2022:

International Women's Day is celebrated in many countries around the world. It is a day when women are recognized for their achievements without regard to divisions, whether national, ethnic, linguistic, cultural, economic or political. A woman named Clara Zetkin (Leader of the 'Women's Office' for the Social Democratic Party in Germany) tabled the idea of an International Women's Day. She proposed that every year in every country there should be a celebration on the same day - a Women's Day - to press for their demands. The UN theme for this year's International Women's Day is "Gender equality today for a sustainable tomorrow, recognizing the contribution of women and girls around the world, who are leading the charge on climate change adaptation, mitigation, and response, to build a more sustainable future for all."

Samskruti College of Pharmacy celebrated the International Women's day on 8th March 2022 where in the female students and the staff members gathered in the Auditorium. Some of the participants shared the experiences of their achievements with the others. The female HODs of the college were addressed on the theme of this year's Women's day and its significance to all other participants. The HODs also given the motivational speeches to the participants which are very useful especially to the girl students and the young female staff members of the college for their future growth. This celebration has also provided a platform to discuss and share among the participants the various problems and difficulties being faced by female students and staff members of the college and the relevant changes that they are expecting from the management can be taken to its notice for appropriate solution.

According to an article 'India's "Untouchable" Face Violence and Discrimination' published by the reporter of National Geographic Channel 'Hillary Mayell' on 3rd June 2003, More than 160 million people in India are considered "Untouchable"—people tainted by their birth into a caste system that deems them impure, less than human. Human rights abuses against these people, known as Dalits, are legion. A random sampling of headlines in mainstream Indian newspapers tells their story: "Dalit boy beaten to death for plucking flowers"; "Dalit tortured by cops for three days"; "Dalit 'witch' paraded naked in Bihar"; "Dalit killed in lock-up at Kurnool"; "7 Dalits burnt alive in caste clash"; "5 Dalits lynched in Haryana"; "Dalit woman gang-raped, paraded naked"; "Police egged on mob to lynch Dalits".

India's Untouchables are relegated to the lowest jobs, and live in constant fear of being publicly humiliated, paraded naked, beaten, and raped with impunity by upper-caste Hindus seeking to keep them in their place. Merely walking through an upper-caste neighborhood is a life-threatening offense. Nearly 90 percent of all the poor Indians and 95 percent of all the illiterate Indians are Dalits, according to figures presented at the International Dalit Conference that took place May 16 to 18 in Vancouver, Canada.

Therefore it is necessary to make the students and staff aware of the caste based discrimination and violence various ways to avoid as well as legal provisions available in our country for gaining justice.

In this program the participants were made aware about

- The caste face of violence.
- The persons (population) affected by it.
- Who are untouchables.
- What kind of unwanted events taken place on Dalits in India in the past.
- What is the quality of living of Dalits in India
- What the statistics compiled by 'India's National Crime records Bureau' indicating about the crimes committed in Dalits.
- What was the reaction of police, villege councils and Government officials on this issue in past.
- What are the possible ways to overcome cast based violence and discrimination in India.

When you wear a mask, in the event of Corona viral pandemic situation you can protect others as well as yourself. Masks work best when everyone wears . A mask is not a substitute for social distancing. Masks should still be worn in addition to staying at least 6 feet apart, especially when we are in indoors around people. The following must be followed to be safe.

- Washing your hands frequently (for at least 20 seconds) with soap and water or a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol.
- Avoiding touching your face (particularly your eyes, nose, and mouth).
- Staying in home as much as possible, even if you don't feel sick.
- Avoiding crowds and gatherings of 10 or more people.
- Avoiding all non-essential shopping and travel.
- Keeping 6 feet of distance between yourself and others when out.
- Getting plenty of sleep, which helps support your immune system.
- Following all recommendations from health authorities.

Program Name: Awareness program on 'Domestic violence- Speaking out'.

Date of Activity: 18.09.2021

Venue: College Seminar hall

Organized by: Department of Pharmacy

Number of participants: 25

In India, around 32% of ever-married women reported having experienced physical, sexual, or emotional violence by their husbands in their lifetime. The most common type of spousal violence, in India is physical followed by emotional and sexual which are not reducing or increasing. Speaking out about the victimization and other aspects relevant to it in the event of victimization by victims and other relevant persons on various occasions is very much essential for the wellbeing of the society. Therefore it is necessary to make the students and staff especially the female ones aware of the domestic violence and the importance of speaking out in the event of it apart from having knowledge of various forums available in our country for gaining justice.

In this program the participants were made aware about

- Domestic violence and various forms of it.
- Circumstances which may lead to domestic violence.
- Persons affected by it.
- Importance of breaking the silence and speaking out by the victims and other relevant persons in the event of domestic violence.
- Various types of problems being faced by victims in expressing about victimization and the response from the criminal justice system.
- Importance of speaking to the victims by advocates, Government representatives, press and media persons and persons from various welfare organizations and giving the victims the help, hope and healing.

PROGRAM REPORT

Program Name: Awareness program on 'Women's work-Fact and Friction'.

Date of Activity: 18.10.2021

Venue: College Seminar hall

Organized by: Department of Pharmacy

Number of participants: 26

The term 'women's work' may indicate a role with children as defined by nature in that only women are biologically capable of performing them: pregnancy, childbirth, and breastfeeding. It may also refer to professions that involve these functions: midwife and wet nurse. 'Women's work' also referred to work that was considered suitable for women and usually included the undervalued and unpaid labor of housekeeping and child-rearing. But in reality most of the women have undertaken various professions apart from taking care of hose, family and children in the present day context. But unfortunately valuing of the women's work is not up to the mark. The true value of all women's work deserves to be recognized, fairly measured and invested in as part of the global economy. Women have an equal right for their work to be rewarded, to work free from violence and harm, and to live free from poverty. Therefore there is a need to evaluate and make aware of various facts of women's work and the frictions they are facing while at work to the students and staff to build a prosperous society and nation.

In this program the participants were made aware about

- The concept of women's work and what is considered as women's work in general.
- The duties of women in general especially the house hold women.
- The role of woman and man.
- The modern working woman.

PROGRAM REPORT

Program Name: Awareness program on 'Women's work-Unrecognized and Unaccounted'.

Date of Activity: 08.11.2021

Venue: College Seminar hall.

Organized by: Department of Pharmacy.

Number of participants: 25

The term 'women's work' may indicate a role with children as defined by nature in that only women are biologically capable of performing them: pregnancy, childbirth, and breastfeeding. It may also refer to professions that involve these functions: midwife and wet nurse. 'Women's work' also referred to work that was considered suitable for women and usually included the undervalued and unpaid labor of housekeeping and child-rearing. Though most of the women have undertaken various professions apart from taking care of house, family and children in the present day context unfortunately valuing of the women's work is not up to the mark and not being properly accounted and recognized. The true value of all women's work deserves to be recognized, fairly measured and invested in as part of the global economy. Women have an equal right for their work to be rewarded, to work free from violence and harm, and to live free from poverty. Therefore there is a need to evaluate and make aware of various facts and significance of women's work towards the society and the nation to the students and staff to build a prosperous to be properly recognized.

In this program the participants were made aware about

- The concept of women's work and what is considered as women's work in general.
- The duties of women in general especially the house hold women.
- The role of woman and man.
- The modern working woman.
- The professions being undertaken by the women.
- The facts about the women working at their home and that in the work places.
- Major determinants of women's work.
- Women's work and equality.
- The need for recognition and reward of the work done by the women at home and at work places with respect to the growth and development of the prosperous society and the nation.
